

A whimsical illustration of a journal cover. The cover is a light pink color with a gold, ornate border. At the top right, there is a small gold bird perched on the edge. On the right side, a gold cat's face is peeking out from behind the cover. At the bottom left, a green mouse is sitting on the ground, holding a long, thin stick that reaches up to the top left corner of the journal page. The page is blank except for the text and a horizontal line.
